

Prevent slips, trips, and falls by identifying hazards

Slips, trips and falls often happen because of everyday hazards.
Learn what to look for and address them before someone gets hurt.

Look for these top 5 slip hazards in schools:

Poor housekeeping
Keep walking surfaces clean and clear of clutter.

Wet indoor floors
Use entry mats, clean up spills, or mark wet areas.

Ice and snow outdoors
Walk like a penguin and use traction aids.

Distractions and unexpected obstacles
Put phones away and inspect walkways regularly.

Uneven outdoor surfaces
Watch your footing on playgrounds, fields, and sidewalks. Wear proper footwear.

about health and safety hazards in your workplace.

If you discover a slip and trip hazard, don't ignore it. Clean it up or remove it right away if you can. If you can't, mark it in some way and report it to your supervisor.
